

Fellowship

The Emergency department of the University of Florida is currently accepting applications to a post-graduate fellowship, and is developing the curricula and infrastructure for more. Currently, we are accepting applications to our Emergency-Critical Care Medicine Fellowship co-sponsored by the Emergency Department and the CCM division of Anesthesia.

Full time faculty are working on development of an International Medicine Fellowship, as well as, an EMS fellowship. These fellowship opportunities are expected to be available in the near future.

Emergency-Critical Care Medicine Fellowship

This is a two year fellowship cosponsored with the Department of Anesthesiology. Please click here for more information
